EXECUTIVE IS GRAVE IN READING DECISION

Doomed Slayers Will Not Be Told of Action; Both Are Visited by Mothers.

Special to The Washington Post. New York, Jan. 10 .- Gov. A. E. Smith onight spoke the word that means death for Ruth Brown Snyder and Henry Judd Gray.

Summoning reporters to his suite at the Biltmore hotel shortly before 6 o'clock, the Governor read a formal statement in which he dienied clemency to the murderers of Albert Snyder, a motorboating magazine art editor

This definitely writes finis on the areers of the famous lovers, and, barring some unforeseen surprise legal development, they will die in the electric chair shortly after 11 o'clock Thursday night in the execution chamber in Sing Sing Prison, at Ossining.

The governor's face was grave and his voice was steady and deliberate as he read the decision that swept away the last vestige of hope that remained to Ruth and Judd. Seated beside him was his personal legal adviser, Edward

EQUALITY OF WOMEN MEASURE IS APPROVED

Favors Penson Building for District Armory; Opposes Tax Exemptions.

The citizens advisory council last night disapproved assessment against abutting property owners of $3 a front foot for service sewers as provided in a bill pending before Congress and recommended to the District committees of both houses that the assessment be limitd to $1.50 a front foot. The assessment of $2 a front foot for water mains, also included in the bill, was not deemed objectionable.

A bill designed to create equality of women with men with respect to inheritance and descent of property was approved on motion of George R. Wales

The council also approved a bill designed to prevent professional bondsmen from victimizing persons arrested by the police, and likewise approved the Caraway bill to prevent maintenance of lawsuits against members of Congress in the District while that body is in session.

A committee consisting of the association's newly elected president, Joseph A. Burkhart, Thomas P. Littlepage, H. Prescott Gatley, and C. F. R. Ogilby was selected to present the resolution to the appropriate committees of the Senate and House of Representatives in opposition to the bill introduced Monday by Senator King, of Utah.

introduced Monday by Senator King, of Utah.

By the same resolution the association expressed its gratitude to President Coolidge for the nomination of Theodore Cogswell as register of wills. The meeting elected Jesse C. Adkins as president c the association for the ensuing year; Paul E. Lesh, first vice president; George C. Shinn, second vice president, and the following to fill vacancies in the board of directors: Joseph A. Burkhart, J. Miller Kenyon and Thomas H. Littlepage. William W. Millan was reelected treasurer for the stxteenth consecutive term and George C. Gertman secretary for the tenth consecutive term.

The report of the grievance committee, through its chairman, Roger J. Whiteford, indicated great activity not only in ridding the bar of those who were unsuited to the privileges of representing clients in a fiduciary capacity, but also in protecting the good name of certain lawyers against whom unfounded charges were made.

GAS KILLED BEFORE OXYGEN REACHED S-4 CREW, COURT TOLD

Lieut. Flotts, Medical Officer at Salvage Operations, Tells of Air Tests.

SAYS RESCUERS DID ALL WITHIN HUMAN POWER

Took Minute to Reverse Paulding's Engines, Declares Machinist's Mate.

Boston, Jan. 10 (A.P.).—A deadly percentage of carbon dioxide had poisoned the air in the torpedo room of the S-4 before rescuers could convey a supply of oxygen to six men imprisoned in the sunken submarine, the naval court of inquiry investigating the S-4 disaster was informed today.

Lieut C. J. Flotte, who acted as medical officer in the salvage operations, made public today the result of tests of air returned from the torpedo room after air lines had been attached to the lightening tube on the night of December 21. The tests, made at the Boston Navy Yard, revealed 7 per cent of carbon dioxide.

"Life could not have existed when the carbon dioxide reached this percentage," Dr. Flotte said. "Three percent of this gas is considered highly cent of this gas is considered nighty dangerous.

"There was not only the question of the high percentage of carbon dioxide to be considered, but the low temperature of the water, which was 34 degrees. The six men had existed 72 hours in this low temperature with 18 inches of water on the floor, no food, no water, without proper clothing. All of these things contributed to hasten the end."

"Do you think that by blowing air into the room at that time there was a chance of reviving any of the personnel?" asked Commander Leslie E. Bratton tudes advocate ton, judge advocate.

"I doubt it very much," the witness said. "It was done Wednesday night but they knew there was no chance to save the men inside."

"I would say they were all dead without question."

Lieut. Flotte also had charge of all divers during the S-51 salvage operations off Block Island in 1925 and 1926. He said that when he reached Provincetown on December 19, weather conditions were very bad, with low temperature, and rough sea.

"From my experience in the S-51 work," he said, "I considered diving operations impossible. It was practically suicidal to send divers down under the conditions prevailing when I reported to the Falcon. On Tuesday, the wext day, diving conditions were about the same. The first day in which diving operations were possible was Wednesday, when an air connection was made to the torpedo room."

Everything Possible Done.

Lieut. Flotte estimated free air in the torpedo room of the S-4, together with the oxygen bottle, might have maintained life for from 72 to 80 hours, this depending on the activity of the men, the amount of food and other factors. After that period, he said, there would be present in the air a lethal proportion of carbon dloxide.

Old Turkish Salaam Banished by Kemalists

Angora, Turkey, Jan. 10 (A.P.) .-The Kemalists have banished the old Turkish salaam and ushered in the western handshake or "shake-hand," as it is called in this part of the world, but curlously enough Kemal himself perpetuates the an-cient custom of letting his hand be kissed by all and sundry to whom that hand is offered.

Every Turk, man, woman and child, minister, deputy or common dent, kisses and touches to his forehead the hand of the Gazi.

Even the prime minister, Ismet Pasha, always leans over to make the traditional gesture, but Kemal, out of respect for his premier, withdraws his hand before the kiss has descended.

cer of the deck that day; Walter C. Reingans, seaman, first class, who was quartermaster on watch; James C. Milazzo, seaman, first class, helmsman, and Harry C. Coffey, chief machinist's mate, who had the engine-room watch. When asked whether he had felt the shock when the two vessels came together, Coffey's reply was a fervent, "I'll say I did."

Coffey was back of the No. 1 generator, about 30 feet from the throttle, he said, when the signal "full astern" came from the Paulding's bridge. He said he made the trip to the throttle in "about a minute."

"Do you know that a man might run 100 yards in ten seconds?" asked the judge advocate.

"Not in the engine room," Coffey replied.

MEXICAN COURT DECISION BAR ASSOCIATION ASKED FAVORS U. S. OIL FIRMS

Concerns Granted Injunction Committee Says That Class of Against Application on Them of Petroleum Articles.

COMPANIES INVOLVED ANTIWAR PACT FAVORED

Mexico City, Jan. 10 (A.P.).—Another court decision, construed in well-informed circles as further evidence that the Mexican government does not intend to apply the oil laws retroactively, concerning the property rights of foreign oil companies existing before the concerning the property rights of foreign oil companies existing before the constitution of 1917, was rendered today.

It consisted of the granting of an injunction by the Third District Court to four oil companies against the application upon them of four articles of the petroleum law considered retroactive, confiscatory and unconstitutional by the foreign oil companies.

The companies concerned are the Huasteca Petroleum Co., the Mexican Petroleum Co., the Mexican Petroleum Co. the Tuxpam Petroleum Co. The district court's decision granted the Huasteca and the three other companies, companions in the injunction application and all members of the Pan-American Transport, or former Doheny, group, an injunction against articles 2, 4, 14 and 15 of the petroleum law.

Article 2, the eoil companies between Article 2, the oil companies to secure government permits to engage in any kind of petroleum work.

Article 2, the oil companies' petition interprets, requires the oil companies to secure government permits to engage in any kind of petroleum work.

Article 2, the oil companies' petition interprets, prohibits the foreign oil companies from acquiring a concession, a condition which the petition aligns is inconsistent, since other sections of the oil law contemplated the issuance of concessions. Articles 14 and 15 were held by the companies in effect to substitute a 50-year confirmatory concession in place of the oil-land rights acquired before 1917 and required the companies to apply for such concessions. of concessions. Articles 14 and 15 were held by the companies in effect to substitute a 50-year confirmatory concession in place of the oil-land rights acquired before 1917 and required the companies to apply for such concessions within a year of the effectiveness of the law or to forfeit those rights.

For Labor Activities

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 10 (A.P.).—A gift of $2,500,000 from the estate of the late Charles M. Hall, of Oberlin, Ohio, for the endowment of an institution in Peking, China, for the study of Orlenance, nineteen Yale students were arrested here tonight as they attempted to pass out pamphlets among striking employes of two neckwear manufacturing firms.

The pamphlets, signed by three Yale students, oppose the open shop ruling that brought two neckwear manufacturers here from New York City, where they fought a closed shop basis with the United Neckwear Makers' Union. The pamphlets were said to be part of an effort on the part of the control of the part of the pa

By-Election Is Won By English Laborite

(Special Cable Dispatch.)
London, Jan. 10.—The labor party won a great victory in the Northampton by-election today when Col. C.
L'Estrange Maione turned a Conservative majority of 971 in the general election into a Labor majority of 602.
Col. Maione as a young man entered the navy, becoming a lieutenant commander. When the war started he was transferred to the army, becoming the youngest colonel. He was sent to the air force, where he also made a fine record. After the war he became a communist and served six months imprisonment, losing ail his decorations, for organizing the "Red troops."
Since then he has become a moderate Socialist.

From such dissensions, the encyclical says, "is born indifference which is listlessness of religion and also modernism which considers dogmatic proof not as absolute verity, but relative and therefore changeable according to the various conditions of the times and the different dispositions of men.
"Nor can one distinguish between dogmas as though some were imposed and others left to the free acceptance of the faithful, because all are to be believed for the same motive, that is, by the authority of a revealing God; therefore, certainty of faith can not be less in one than in another of revealed dogmas, even if one dogma was explicitly made clear and solemnly defined in modern times as happened concerning the question of primacy and the infallible authority of the Roman pontiff."

The document concludes with a refutation of various non-Catholic arguments in favor of the unionist thesis and says that unity can not be achieved except by a return of non-Catholics to the church of Rome.

It concludes with an appeal to the "separated sons" and with the wish that the day may come soon in which "all the erring will finally return to the pa-ternal embrace of the successor of St.

The fog was so dense that, although the plane crashed within 100 yards of a farm house and less than 200 yards from a traveled highway, the accident did not become known until this morning.

200 yards from a traveled highway, the accident did not become known until this morning.

The dead are Raymond Henries, of Buffalo, a pilot in the air mail service; Capt. Edward M. Pauley, of Albany, a commercial aviator; George F. Benedict, of Peoria, Ill., a merchant, who was interested in aviation.

The bodies of the three victims were badly mangled. The force with which the alreraft struck the earth was so great that the motor was ripped apart, one of the cylinders falling 200 feet away from the rest of the wreckage.

The plane, which started from Mineola, Long Island, with Henries and Benedict aboard, early Sunday afternoon, stopped at Albany to take on Capt. Pauley.

George W. Knowiton, of West Upton, was killed and Capt. Henry E. Stickney, of Hartford, pilot of the New England Aircraft Corporation at the Worcester Aviation Field in North Grafton, was probably fatally injured at noon today when a anirplane in which Capt. Stickney was giving instructions to Knowiton made a nose dive of several hundred feet into a stone wall.

Knowiton was the son of Maj. and Mrs. George W. Knowiton, both prominent in the affairs of the American Legion in Massachusetts.

committee of the board of trustees, effective not later than January 1, 1929, it became known today.

A letter submitted to the committee yesterday explained that a successor might be found whom the board would wish to call immediately and asked that the board accept his regisnation at any time prior to January 1, 1929, that seemed desirable to the board.

It had been known at the University for some time that Dr. Goodnow, who will reach the age of 70 soon after the date he set for his resignation, wished to be relieved of his duties so he might do some writing and might travel. Two years ago; when his resignation was first suggested, Daniel Willard agreed to accept the presidency of the board of trustees only on condition that Dr. Goodnow remain for two years.

The letter, which expresses regret, but alludes to the approach of his seventieth birthday, will be considered by the trustees at a meeting next month.

Edgar F. Hazleton, counsel for Mrs. Snyder, refused to abandon hope for his client, even in the face of this decision of the governor, which seems to close the books, as far as the State is Mrs. Snyder and Gray.

Make a batter of one pint of milk Make a batter of one pint of milk (proportions for one medium-size chicken), one and a half cupfuls of flour, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, a fourth teaspoonful of sods, a half teaspoonful of cream of tartar, two eggs well beaten and a little salt. Put a layer of chicken in the bottom of a baking dish and pour over it enough batter to conceal the meat. Add another layer of chicken and more batter until the materials are used. Batter must form the top layer to make a top crust. Bake for an hour in a moderate oven. Beat up an egg and stir it into the liquor from the boiling of the chicken; thicken it with two tablespoonfuls flour; add a little chopped parsley; bring to a boil and star it into the liquor from the boiling of the chicken; thicken it with two tablespoonfuls flour; add a little chopped parsley; bring to a boil and send to the table in a separate dish; to be used, of course, with the chicken pudding.

Senator Says Governor Has Helped Take New York "Out of Union" on Liquor.

MRS. CLEM SHAVER URGES DRY PLATFORM

Democratic Women's League Told Wet Planks Will Bring Party Defeat.

Described as an enemy of law enforcement, Gov. Alfred E. Smith, of New York, was verbally scourged in an address last night by Senator Thomas J. Heflin, of Alabama, at the closing session of the National Woman's Democratic Law Enforcement League in the Mayflower Hotel.

The enemies of law enforcement, Senator Heflin declared, have organized themselves into "bands of marauding outlaws, who defy the statutes, denounce the courts and seek to nullify the Constitution of the United States. They have been aided and encouraged by some men, who hold high offices to carry on the liquor traffic in spite of the statute law and constitutional provision.

"One of the high State officials I have in mind is Gov. Smith, of New York," the senator continued. "As governor of that great Commonwealth, he approved the States statute, which virtually withdrew the State of New York from the United States as far as the eighteenth amendment is concerned. That official act said, in effect, that he had no respect for the eighteenth amendment is concerned. That official can be for York."

Senator Heflin added that it was apparent that the Catholic Church was anxious to assist and cooperate with Gov. Smith in an effort to rid the United States of the eighteenth amendment and would not permit its enforcement in the State of New York," In an effort to rid the United States of the eighteenth amendment and would not permit its enforcement in the State of New York,"

Senator Heflin added that it was apparent that the Catholic Church was anxious to assist and cooperate with Gov. Smith in an effort to rid the United States of the eighteenth amendment repealed. He concluded that "neither the President nor yet the Constitution is subservient to the College of Cardinals."

Throughout Senator Heffin's address, which consumed more than an hour, he pictured American Catholics as the supporters of Gov. Smith's "unc...stitutional administration" in New York State and his campaign for President, At the conclusion, Col. Patrick H. Callahan, of Louisville, Ky., a Catholic and avowed opponent of Gov. Smith, arose to defend his faith.

Col. Callahan agreed with Mr. Heflin that there were numerous "wet" Catholics supporting Gov. Smith, but contended that the issue was a "ilquor controversy and not a religious one." Col. Callahan declared he firmly believed that if Gov. Smith ran for President and every Catholic in the Nation voted for him, he could not be elected if he did not have the support of thousands of Protestants.

While Col. Callahan was speaking, an unidentified woman in the audience was ejected from the room for loud talking. Despite the diplomatic treatment by several men and women attendants at the doorway, she could not be stilled and threatened, momentarily, to cause a grave disturbance. She was still debating with the attendants when the meeting was adjourned.

O'Leary in Witness Chair Begins Story of Interviews

INTIMIDATION HEARING NEARING CONCLUSION

Assistant District Attorney Asserts Language in Affidavit Was Largely His.

By NORMAN W. BAXTER.

James J. O'Leary, who during the contempt hearing of Harry F. Sinciair and five other respondents was one of the Government prosecutors, vesterday became a witness in his own behalf to seek by his testimony to disprove the charge made by Edward J. Kidwell, jr., witness in the contempt case, that the latter had been intimidated and coerced.

The new role of the assistant United States district attorney bids fair to be the final episode in the investigation of the intimidation and coercion charges which on December 21 temporarily displaced the contempt charge. More than two score witnesses, fully half of that number on yesterday, preceded Mr. O'Leary on the stand.
Only a portion of Mr. O'Leary's testimony was given yesterday. His story had only covered the making of an affidavit by Mrs. Mary P. Kidwell at the Kidwell home when Justice Frederick L. Siddons adjourned court for the day. In that time Mr. O'Leary had detailed his movements with Kidwell that day

Witnesses Out of Town.

It was developed at the morning session that Donald King, newspaper reporter, who had made affidavit charging Kidwell with discussing the oil case while a juror, and J. Roy Akers, who swore to the same effect, were both absent from court. It was explained that King is in North Dakota, where his wife is dying, and Akers' whereabouts are unknown. Counsel for the respondents charged the Government with "pretense" in having the names of the two men called, and announced that they had issued subpenas for t' they had issued subpenas for m both and been unable to locate

A particularly acrimonious dispute resulted over the reexamination of Kidwell, the former juror. George P. The court suggested finally that the examination would be shorter than the arguments threatened to be, and per-mitted some questions to be asked.

Movement for Cleveland.

There is quite a slient movement on for cleveland, hewever, among Smith supporters, although outwardly they profess to have no interest whatsoever as to where 'he convention finally goes. They are taking the Democratic attitude of being willing to abide by the "will of the majority." There is a hope on their part, though, regardless of how strong it finds expression, that Cleveland will be the ultimate selection: Smith needs Ohlo, it is reasoned, and by holding the convention in that State, together with the possible distoration being the contract. He said that the Government paid $10,000,000 a year to navy yard employes for which it to navy yard employes for which it to navy yard employes for which it to apply for their adjusted service certificates.

Director Hines, of the Veterans Bureau, appeared to make up this deficit, but Smith forces may offer to make it up. Although Gov. Vie Donahey of Ohio since was a board facilities for veterans hospitals throughout the country.

Two battle-scarred tariff debaters carried on the argument as the Democrats and Republicans squared off once more on this issue. Pat Harrison, of Mississippl, carried the battle for the Democrats in favor of the resolution with the complaint that the tariff was responsible for many of the ills of the farmers. Watson, of Indiana, led the defending administration forces throughout the stormy oratorical session, holding up a picture of American prosperity as evidence of the benefits of the tariff.

And while Senators Vare and Watson battled each other the Republican farm group pecked away at both men and turned the tariff debate eventually into one of farm relief.

On the surface San Francisco seemed to be in the lead for the convention city. It is the only city known to be making a serious financial offer. It is prepared to offer $250,000, an amount, which in years past, would appeal to the debt ridden Democrats' heart. Cleveland and Detroit are actively in appearance but neither is prepared, it is understood, to bid for the convention on the auction block. ### . THE S-4 INQUIRY.

The House of Representatives passed the resolution recommended by the President providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate the S-4 disaster and to consider ways and means of preventing such accidents. The resolution provides that the commission shall consist of three civilians and two retired naval officers, to be appointed by the

Now Democratic opposition to the resolution has developed in the Senate committee on naval affairs. It is suggested that the commission would "whitewash" the Navy: that it is a scheme whereby the administration hopes to escape a searching investigation by Congress; and it is demanded that the inquiry be made by members of Congress and not by private citizens or Navy officers.

This demand is nothing else than an attempt to turn the S-4 disaster to political advantage. The demand is not made for the purpose of ascertaining the truth, and thus to save the lives of submarine crews hereafter, but to work up an agitation against the party in power, so that Democrats may gain some advantage. It is equivalent to saying, "We don't want an impartial and nonpolitical investigation of the S-4 disaster, because the commission might confine itself to facts and not take advantage of the opportunity to discredit the administration Let us have a free-and-easy investigation by congressmen who know how to twist such an inquiry into political channels. This submarine was sunk while the Republicans were in power. Let us make the most of it."

The people of the United States have no use for such political tactics when the lives of its defenders are involved. The people trust President Coolidge. They know he will not appoint a commission that will "whitewash" anybody. He is not serving the United States as a Republican, but as its President. In this matter Congress should serve the whole country, and not Democratic politicians. The Navy is not a Democratic or a Republican Navy. The prostitution of the Navy into an instrument of politics is abhorrent to all decent citizens of all

The Senate naval committee should report out the resolution and the Senate should pass it. Cut out politics, senators, if you can, and do your duty as Americans, relying upon the President of the United States to do his duty also.

ARTIFICIAL SILK.

Up to the year 1913 artificial silk was practically unknown in the United States. The Department of Commerce has no figures which indicate that "rayon," which is the trade name of artificial silk, was ever produced in this country before that year. In 1913 the total production approached 1,500,000 pounds. In 1918 the product had obtained a firm place in the market, and the total produced that year reached nearly 6,000,000 pounds.

"Rayon," as a word describing anything but a ray of light, had barely found its way into the dictionaries. Yet the production has increased steadily during the past ten years. In $1920 the mills in which it is made turned out 8.000.000 pounds. In 1922 the total was 24,406,000, and three years later, in 1925. 52,000,000 pounds of the material found its way into the homes of the people of the United States. Last year a still further increase in production was noted, the output for the twelve months reaching upward of 74,000,000 pounds, according to the Depart-

While many factories engaged in the production of textiles, especially those of New England, reported a heavy falling off in production from their looms last year it is said that every mill manufacturing this compara-

A BANKER ON PROSPERITY.

Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank of New York, is optimistic over the business outlook. "The decline in the volume of business," he told shareholders in the institution during the annual meeting, "has had the natural effect of intensifying competition and thereby narrowing the margin of profits, but this tendency must be regarded as a part of the general movement to lower returns on capital, and while it may be disturbing it is a condition of progress. The readjustment of prices which it brings about results in a leveling of the buying power of those engaged in various trades and industries, strengthens the position of this country in world markets, and on the whole will increase and not decrease production, consumption, employment and the volume of business.' The absence of a demand for capital for productive purposes has per-mitted the rapidly growing supply of current and investment capital to flow into the security markets where it could be profitably employed. That it has so flowed is not to be deplored, for, had it not been so diverted, a dangerous inflation in industry, prices and wages would have been the result."

The president of the National City Bank has an enviable vantage point from which to look out upon the economic structure of the country. The aggregate resources of the bank, recording an increase during the year of more than $288,000,000, reached a total on December 31, 1927, of more than $1,680,000,000, a figure never before approached in the annals of American banking. Its aggregate resources are more than half as large again as those of any other American banking institution. Its deposits alone show a margin of more than $250,000,000 over the total resources of any other bank in the country.

When the President of the United States. the Secretary of Commerce, the president of the country's greatest banking institution, and other Americans possessing accurate information are united in the opinion that the country is heading toward greater prosperity, the statements have great force. The country is on a sound economic foundation, and there is no reason to doubt that this will be a most

TALKING PICTURES.

The Radio Corporation of America has acquired a substantial interest in the FBO Pictures Corporation. The announcement is of interest in several ways. Primarily, the affiliation opens up to the movies for the first time the tremendous resources and potentialities of radio. And it is not beyond the realm of possibility that radio is about to make use of the movies.

The Radio Corporation has announced that the first important undertaking of the new combination will be the presentation of a new scheme of synchronized sound reproduction in connection with ordinary movies. Talking films have been exhibited for some time, but the Radio Corporation claims that its process is greatly superior to any now in use. Years of research and experiment are behind the development. Now it is perfected, and the affiliation with the FBO corporation has been completed in order that an effective distributive system can be made, One can not help wonder, however, if the Radio Corporation has not something even more startling up its sleeve. For some time the public has been promised moving pictures by radio. At the present time an independent broadcasting station in New Jersey is experimenting with the broadcasting of still pictures. Is it not possible that the Radio Corporation has developed a device through which movies can be received in the home? Is it not logical to suppose that this corporation would pioneer in this connection?

In good time, of course, the whole story will be told. In the meantime the public will await with interest the new talking pictures developed by the corporation and released through FBO.

HENRY FORD'S VOYAGE.

Henry Ford has announced that some time during 1928 he will undertake an airplane tour of inspection of certain rubber lands which he is developing in Brazil. Until recently the Detroit motor magnate was admittedly apprehensive of air travel. Although the Ford company for several years had been experimenting with airplanes, and had developed a distinctive type of monoplane which bears its familiar name plate, Henry Ford himself had never been up in the air. It was not until Col. Lindbergh paid Detroit a visit on his swing around the country that Mr. Ford was persuaded to fly. Apparently his conversion to the new mode of travel was complete. Nothing better could happen to aviation than for Henry Ford to utilize a plane for such an expedition. An air inspection of lands inaccessible by ordinary methods of travel would call to public attention the plane put to an ordinary, prosaic everyday task. There would be nothing spectacular in such an undertaking. Furthermore, since Henry Ford would constitute one of the most valuable human cargoes ever carried by a plane on a business journey, the example he would set would have a most wholesome influence on others who are wavering on the edge of accepting the airplane in their daily lives. '

TRUTH ABOUT ALASKA.

It is too much to hope that every member of the House and every senator will read the article on Alaska in the current number of the Atlantic Monthly contributed by Col. Wilds P. Richardson. Yet the perusal of that article and the careful digestion of the facts set forth would doubtless result in the avoidance of many errors in dealing from a legislative standpoint with the affairs of the Territory.

Col. Richardson has no axes to grind. He is an Army officer who spent many years in Alaska in the interest of the Territory and its people, and not in the interest of any corporation. He built the roads and trails that make transportation possible, and his work was all done as an Army officer who knew what was wanted. His knowledge is not academic or taken out of books.

It is the common belief that the price paid by the United States for Alaska, $7,200,000, represents the entire cost of the 586,000 square miles of that great Territory. But Col. ing.

Richardson points out that the Nation has expended upward of $200,000,000 in Alaska, of which $70,000,000 is represented in a railroad of doubtful utility and high cost of maintenance.

The cost of operation of the railroad, over and above receipts, fell below $1,000,000 last year for the first time in its history. It does not pay, and can not pay until the population. which is today smaller than it was ten years ago, is materially increased; and that increase can come only as the result of an intelligent, well-considered policy.

Mineral resources alone will not build up a State, as Col. Richardson points out. Exaggerated statements as to Alaska's wealth and opportunities have actually injured the Territory, and he lays much of this to the activities of the business men of Seattle, who appear to be obsessed with the idea that it is their special mission in life to spread perfectly accurate information and statistics concerning Alaska, the effect of which is to create the impression that fortunes are to be made within the region in spite of its lack of population.

Col. Richardson suggests that possibly amendments to the immigration laws, with inducements calculated to bring in the hardy men of the Scandinavian countries, might have beneficial effect. As to the future control of the affairs of the Territory, he leaves that to the delegate in Congress to say. But he suggests that the local legislature should be relieved "of vexatious and obstructive limitations and given a free hand in Alaskan affairs."

IMPROVED MARKETING.

If the increase in facilities for the transportation of fruits and vegetables to the markets has any effect upon retail prices, there ought to be a decided reduction in the cost of citrus fruits in the Eastern section of the country by the end of the year.

Because of the development of the citrus fruit and winter vegetable industry in Texas the Pacific Fruit Express announces that it has found it necessary to place an order for 200 additional refrigerator cars, which are due for delivery during the current year. This will make the total number of such cars employed by this one company 40,311, and upon the assumption that ten days are required for a car to make the round trip the additional 200 will make it possible to market 600 additional carloads in the North and East each month,

It is about 35 years since the idea of establishing refrigerator lines for the transportation of perishable farm products to the markets was first developed. Then the cars were used almost wholly in the transport of early fruits and vegetables from Florida and California. The lines at the outset were largely privately owned, but in recent years the railroads themselves have taken over many of the private lines, and today it is possible to obtain such service from any section of the country. Fresh fruits and early vegetables are as common in the markets of New York or Chicago in February and March as they are in the States that produce them.

TRAFFIC COURTESY.

New York's traffic cops are going to school. The rest of the country always has been inclined to look upon the New York police force as the shining example of what a police force should be. Soldierly, courteous, courageous and efficient, New York's finest has been the model upon which Keokuk and Squawk Center have builded their own police departments. Police Commissioner Warren, however, is not satisfied with his traffic force. He is annoyed at the manner in which some of the officers give signals and with the attitude of others toward the pubile, particularly out-oftown visitors. Consequently he has issued an order that the entire traffic detail, 2,200 strong, be sent to school to study a curriculum composed of only two subjects-traffic handling and courtesy. If the City of New York feels called upon o send its traffic cops to school, what ought other communities do about it? Throughout the United States the lack of uniformity in traffic handling is an endless source of confusion. The fact that each city insists upon an individual system is bad enough in itself; the fact that each member of the same traffic department has his own pet method of signaling and handling traffic, is worse. Washington is an example of lack of uniformity in traffic cop methods. The officer stationed at this corner waves his arms this way; the one stationed at the next corner waves them that way; both gestures are intended to convey the same meaning to the motorist, and the wonder of it is that traffic handles itself as expeditiously as it does.

Courtesy, also, is an important attribute in the traffic officer. To the average citizen, the bluecoat who guards the intersection represents the government. He is frequently the only, and always the most frequent point of contact with the municipality. Minor infractions of rules should be corrected, of course, but they do not demand discourteous and inconsiderate handling. With visitors this situation is magnified. The city, to them, is only as pleasant as the treatment they receive from the police department.

Other cities may well follow New York's lead. Both in the handling of traffic and in courtesy there is ample room for improvement in the average police department.

AFTERMATH OF THE FLOOD.

The receding waters in the Mississippi flood district have left a deposit which presents the gravest difficulties. A vast bed of absolutely inert sand now covers what originally was exceedingly rich farm land. This sand is of such a nature that it is now estimated that it will require from eight to ten years to bring it to a point where it could support

According to Government experts, such deposits as this are likely to be made when the current of swiftly-moving waters is slowed down. The sand itself, composed largely of quartz particles, is considerably heavier than the clay and silt from which it separates, sinking to the bottom of the water. Thus miles of fertile land in the flood district are now covered with a layer of quart, which itself is entirely sterile. The process of removing the layer would be too expensive, according to expert advice. There it must stay until, in the natural course of things, it is covered with a layer of earth. Then it will be able to support a light vegetation, such as grass and certain types of weed. It is not unlikely that great areas in what was once so fertile a region will never again be fit for crop rais-

Jackson stood for tariff protection. Jackson believed in forcing other nations to pay their honest debts to this country. Jackson believed in giving every state its honest representation. Jackson opposed entangling alliances with other countries. Jackson stood for American rights no matter where they

Today most of those claiming to be Democrats oppose protection. They vote to deprive two States of their just representation in the Senate. They wor the world court, the League of Nations: and they oppose Coolidge in his efforts to protect American rights in Nicaraugua. Jackson was a firm believer in the octrine that private business should be left free and untrammeled. Democrats of today want the Government to regulate everything from railroads to shoe-shining parlors. Jackson believed in the Constitution as it came from the fathers. Democracy of today would oh, where is a genuine Jacksonian Democrat in this twentieth century?

"Gentle shepherd, tell me where?"

Youth and Liquor. To the Editor of The Post- Sir: The outh of this generation do not know the terrible conditions which prevailed before prohibition; therefore they do not have any way of making comparisons. They should get the truth from constructive newspapers; not a pack of lies such as the newspapers some times print, and such as they hear in theaters and on the vaudeville stage. You would not legalize stealing to stop it, would you? Then why is it any more logical to legalize the rum traffic to top, it? If you newspaper men would become a constructive organization rather than destructive, you would occasionally tell them some of the horrible experiences they will have when alcohol robs them of their manhood or womanhood In this age of the automobile with speed, the airplane, the faster and faster moving trains, street cars, and interurban buses, if we now had the same conditions which prevailed before prohibition, it would take an army to gather up the dead bodies, the arms, the legs, maimed in accidents. Please be fair to our youth; tell them addict in your pressroom, or anywhere need efficiency. Our youths do not know the facts, but are misled by the untruthful statements made on this subject. W. K. SINGLETON.

PEACE WITH U.S. IS BRITAIN'S DESIRE AMBASSADOR SAYS

Sir Esme Howard Lauds Work

The one country above all others with which the British Empire desires peace is the United States, Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador, declared last night in addressing the annual dinner of the American Engineering Council at the Mayflower Hotel. The dinner concluded the first day's activity of a convention which will continue today.

The ambassador declared that the preservation of peace is the greatest duty of Great Britain and added that this doctrine "will be unhesitatingly indorsed by the vast majority of the British people throughout the world in apite of fiery generals, peppery admirals and Jingo Journalists." He asserted that his country's destre for peace with the United States springs from "both inclination and from interest."

"It must always be borne in mind," Sir Esme said, "that the great work of "he promotion of permanent peace must be a slow one, it I largely a question of education, of getting the public not only in one bountry or another but all over the world to understand that the appeal to force is barbarous, stupid, reactionary, undemocratic and ruinous to the victor as well at to the vanquished.

"There is hope that when the utter folly of war as an instrument for the just and, above all, economic settlement of disputes has been made clear to the world at large, new spirit will spring up—th has indeed already largely sprung up among three at least of the great peoples of Europe—Britain, France and Germany This, supported by the peace-loving British commonweal'h of nations having its roots in all parts of the world, will, we may hope, bring about a new era in world politics."

The ambassador praised the work of the great peoples of Europe—Britain, France and Germany This, supported by the Birned School, and the Morning Star Temple band. Laurentic, from Liverpool, Laurentic, from Antwerp.

Americans Agree of Nations and asserted the work of the great peoples of Europe—Britain, France and Germany This, supported by the peace-loving British commonweal'h of nations having its har parts of the work, which pope, bring about a new era in world politics."

The ambassador praised the work of the League of Nations and asserted that in its eight years of existence it has to its credit more direct and positive peacemaking work than any political association before could ever boast of.

Cornell Dean Presided.

Dean Dexter S. Kimball, of Cornell University, presided at the dinner. Secretary of Commerce Hoover made a short address.

A. W. Beresford, of New York, was elected president of the council at the afternoon session. Other officers chosen are: Maj. Gardner S. Williams, of Ann Arbor, Mich., and I. E. Moultop, of Boston, vice presidents; and Harrison E. Howe, of, this city, treasurer.

The council in the afternoon took up the question of flood control, and appointed a committee to work with Congress and to study the whole national situation with a view to preventing disasters such as have occurred along the Mississippi and in New England. The committee consists of Maj Williams, chairman; Baxter L. Brown. of St. Louis; John R. Freeman, of Providence, R. I., and Arthur E. Morgan, of Yellow Springs, Ohio. The committee will consider what should be done, who should do it, and who should pay for it.

Dean Dexter S. Kimball, of Cornell University, retiring president of the council, in his presidential address, declared against "hasty legislation" in dealing with flood control. He deplored the general tendency to "pass a law" to remedy all sorts of conditions without making proper scientific inquiry as to the reasons for the conditions or the possible results of the law.

Dean Kimball said that since the of League at Engineer

COOLIDGE URGES SALE OF MERCHANT MARINE

Does Not Believe in Restriction Proposed in Senator Jones' Measure.

(Associated Press.)

President Coolidge does not consider hat the sale of Government-owned nerchant ships should be restricted as oposed in the Jo as bill, favorably reported to the Senate Monday, but that, in the interests of the country and the merchant marine itself, the isiness of ship operation should be put in private hands as quickly as

In the President's opinion, the Government ought not to build any more merchant ships. He believes that it now has mor vessels than can be used, generally speaking, although local and temporary s ortages may intervene.

He is sati ', it was said at the White

Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Alley celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home, 4410 Fourteenth street northwest, with a reception to their friends, continuing from 7 to 10 o'clock last night.

About 150 persons attended. The couple's two sons, Richard F. Alley, of Philadelphia, and Bruce M. Alley, of this city, the only children living, were present with their wives. Three grand-children were present, two the children of Bruce M. Alley and one the son of a daughter who is dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Alley are both natives of Wilson, N. C. They were married in Petersburg, Va. In Wilson, N. C. Mr. Alley was associated with Josephus Daniels in publishing the Wilson Advance, owned by Daniels' mother. He was editor in chief, and Mr. Alley was printer—in fact, the whole printing department.

In Plane for Nicaragua

Before daybreak tomorrow morning, three marines will take off from Bolling Field for Miami, Fia., on the first leg of a flight to Nicaragua. The men, who will fly a three-motor Fokker, are Maj. Louis M. Bourne, Lieut. J. F. Plachta and Sergt. B. F. Belcher.

Maj. Bourne is making preparation to hop off from Miami Friday morning. They will fly over the route taken by Maj. Brainard, who recently flew a plane of the same model to Nicaragua. The planes will be used to transport supplies to the advanced marine bases, where transportation by other modes is extremely slow.

banks held their annual meeting for elections of the boards of directors for the ensuing year and to listen to the annual reports of the presidents. There were few changes reported in the make-up of the boards, several of the banks filling vacancies and others adding to the old bodies.

Perhaps the most important changes in any institution were those made at the Continental Trust Co., where seven of the old directors were dropped and three new ones were added. The sweeping change which the stockholders made at yesterday's meeting should result in a harmonious family and brings to an end a contest for control of the Continental Trust Co., which began several months ago by a group led by Bates Warren and the Gallihers on the one side, and Wade H. Cooper and his friends on the other.

Following is a report of the elections at the various institutions showing the changes made in the various boards.

New directors elected were Gen. John J. Pershing, Edwin B. Parker, Charles H. Tompkins and Henry P. Erwin.

Gen. Pershing, who has been a depositor of the Riggs National since graduation from West Point in 1887 has been in the public eye since his retirement from the Army almost as much as in the service days, and is active in numerous interests. In addition to heading the American Battle Monuments Commission, as chairman he is actively directing the National Cathedral fund drive, is a director of the National Geographical Society, and is associated with other numerous civic and national organizations.

Edwin B. Parker, formerly of Houston, Tex., but now a resident of Washington, was formerly general counsel of the Texas Company. During the war he helped organize the War Industrial Board and was a member of it. After the armistice he was appointed chairman of the United States Liquidation Board, was umpire of the Mixed Claims Commission for the United States and Germany in 1923, and is now chairman of the board of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Charles H. Tompkins is president of the Charles H. Tompkins to present the protonac Electric Power Co., and has been a member of the advisory council of the bank for a number of years.

Maj. Henry P. Erwin, capitalist, formerly president of the Hydraulic Machinery Co. of Chicago, has been a resident of Washington for a number of years and was a member of the investment banking firm of John L. Edwards & Co., until shortly after the death of Mr. Edwards.

Those, reelected to the board of directors were: Charles C. Glover, Ir. Louis E. Jeffries, John S. Larcombe, Henry B. Spencer, Julius Garfinckel, Fleming Newbold, C. Powell Minnigerode, william M. ## Standards measurement

THE "POINT" NO. 5.

MONG typographers the standard of measurement is known as the "point" and in size is the equivalent to one seventy-second of an inch. An interesting achievement of typography was the exhibition recently of the complete Lord's Prayer cast on a four-point slug of type.

Among investors the standard is generally looked for in the safety of the investment and the certainty and regularity of the return. So the First Mortgages offered by Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Company have achieved their place in the investment world because no investor has ever suffered loss from them and because the interest is sent out regularly without fail.

In 1928 you should take advantage of this standard of investment which is at your door.

Lexington Water Power Company

Dated January 1, 1928. In coupon form in interchangeable denominations of $1,000, $300 and $100, registrable as to principal only. First Mortgage Bonds may be fully registered. Interest payable January 1 and July 1 in New York and Chicago without deduction for the normal Federal Income Tax now or hereafter deductible at the source not in excess of 2%.

Letters from Mr. W. S. Barstow, President, are summarized below:

The Company: Lexington Water Power Company is constructing on the Saluda River about ten miles west of Columbia, South Carolina at an estimated cost of approximately $21,000,000, a hydro-electric power development which, upon completion about September 1, 1930, will be one of the largest in this country. The dam will be about a mile and a half long with a maximum height of 208 feet and a maximum width at the base of approximately a quarter of a mile. The lake to be created will be 33 miles long and have a maximum width of 14 miles. The power house will have an original installed capacity of 130,000 Kw. and an ultimate aggregate capacity of 200,000 Kw.

Not only will the dam have the largest cubical content of any dam in this country, but upon completion the lake will be the largest created artificially in the United States. From the standpoint of average firm kilowatt hour output the capacity of the power house will be exceeded by no hydro-electric generating station in America except that of the Niagara Falls Power Company at Niagara Falls.

Power Contracts: Contracts for the purchase of power have been executed with Carolina Power & Light Company, Southern Power Company (now assumed by Duke Power Company) and Broad River Power Company excending until July 1, 1980. Under the terms of these contracts, the Company will receive annual revenues of $1,904,125. After the deduction of estimated operating expenses and taxes, estimated net income available for interest will amount to $1,420,125. The annual interest requirements on the First Mortgage Bonds amount to $600,000 and on the Debentures to $275,000. It is expected that the Company will receive an additional $150,000 from secondary power sales.

Security of Bonds: The First Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage on all real property of the Company now owned or hereafter acquired not subject to liens and by a direct mortgage on real property now owned or hereafter acquired subject to liens, if any, existing at the time of acquisition. At the time of the completion of the development, the Mortgage securing these Bonds will be an absolute first mortgage on the power house and dam and on substantially all the other property of the Company. In addition, the above power contracts will be pledged under the Mortgage.

Provisions of the Debentures: The 51/2% Convertible Sinking Fund Gold Debentures will be a direct obligation of the Company. They will be convertible into $6 Cumulative Preferred Stock (no par value) of the Company ime after January 1, 1931, basis of 10 shares of such Preferred Stock for each $1,000 principal amount of Debentures, with adjustment for accrued dividends and accrued interest. A semi-annual sinking fund beginning January 1, 1933, to operate through Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., Sinking Fund Agents, is calculated to retire the entire amount of the Debentures by maturity.

Purpose of Financing: The proceeds from the sale of these securities will be deposited under separate Agreements to be released in amounts not exceeding an aggregate of 75% of the cost of the development as defined in the Agreements. Not more than $12,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds and $5,000,000 Debentures may be issued in connection with the construction of the original 130,000 Kw. capacity of the development.

Guarantee of Completion: General Gas & Electric Corporation, which has guaranteed the completion of the original 130,000 Kw. capacity of the development, has no funded debt. Its preferred and common stocks outstanding and listed on the New York Stock Exchange on the basis of prices per share as of the date of the letters have an indicated market value of $35,864,000, while the indicated market value of all of its outstanding securities including dividend participations is $39,572,000.

A descriptive circular will be furnished on request.

PRICES RALLY SLIGHTLY FROM SEVERE REACTION

Some Losses Exceed 10 Points in 3.460.000-Share Market.

FEW STOCKS HOLD UP

Special to The Washington Post. New York, Jan. 10.—Drastic liquidation drove stocks down for net losses extending to 71/2 points today in one of the heaviest trading periods in the history of the Stock Exchange, the turnover topping the 3,460,000-share level. At the day's lows some losses exceeded 10 points, with recessions among the high priced stocks which have been active recently ranging from 2 to 5 points. Standard industrials and railpoints. Standard industrials and rail-road shares gave way quite as readily as the more volatile speculative favor-ites when stop loss orders were uncov-ered in nearly all sections of the list. There were no particularly unfavorable news developments outside the market itself, the weakness apparently arising almost wholly from technical condi-tions.

The tonnage report of the United States Steel Corporation, showing a larger increase in unfilled orders than had been expected, was disregarded by traders generally for a time, Steel common declining more after the announcement than before. Late in the session, however, there was a slight change of sentiment and the stock came within half a point of recovering its losses on the day.

Call money renewed and held at 4½ per cent, despite the calling by the banks of more than $20,000,000. There was a slight advance in 90 and 120-day bankers' acceptances.

Stocks were heavy at the opening, rallied a little late in the morning, spurted for a few minutes just after noon, then slumped badly, and finally rallied slightly just before the close. The market, however, was decidedly irregular at the finish and the undertone was weak. The surprise of the irregular at the finish and the under-tone was weak. The surprise of the day was the heavy selling movement that followed directly after the an-nouncement that the unfilled orders of the Steel Corporation had increased by more than half a million tons dur-ing the last month. This selling move-ment was heavier in several divisions of the list than among the steels.

reports; Christie Brown, with a net advance of 4\%; Devoe & Reynolds, 2; Bangor & Aroostook, 3; Corn Products, 1\%; Texas & Pacific, 2\%; Vulcan Detinning, 3\%, and Reid Ice Cream, 1\%. Almost every other stock on the list lost ground on the day. In numerous instances, however, the closing prices were above the lows for the General Motors, in a turnover of 247,800 shares, opened at 133, advanced to 134, declined to 130 and closed at 132, off 1½ net, Radio, in a turnover of 199,900 shares, opened at 101½, moved up to 104¼, dropped to 93 and finished at 100¾, for a net loss of 1¼. The ease with which the market receded was plainly disturbing to speculative confidence, and the absence of lative confidence, and the absence of the usual support only added to the confusion, inasmuch as it suggested efforts were being made to utilize the Steel Corporation figures to attempt distribution on a large scale.

Motor stocks were the most severely depressed as a group, although Yellow Truck stood up well and finished the day with a moderate net advance. Merchandising stocks, specialties, farm machinery issues and coppers suffered losses ranging from fractions to 4½ points.

While the rails, as a group, lost ground, many of them made good recoveries in the last hour and closed well above their lows for the day, some of them even showing modest net advances. net advances.

MOST BOND SECTIONS SHOW EASING TENDENCY

Recently Popular Rails Especially Are in Supply-New Offerings Shrink.

CONVERTIBLES DRIFT OFF

New York, Jan. 10 (A.P.).—Easing tendencies were present in most sections of the bond market today, the recently popular railway issues being farticularly in supply. A stiffening of binkers' acceptance rates undoubtedly was a factor. New offerings fell off sharply after yesterday's heavy volume and presented little competition to the listed market.

Approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the St. Paul reorganization plan came too late to have any effect on bonds of that road, some of which were-quite heavy. Pressure was directed against such outstanding railway mortgages as Chesapeake Corporation 5s, Rock Island 4½s, Denver & Rio Grande Western 5s, Hudson & Manhattan 5s and Missouri Pacific 5s. Some of the selling may have been induced by the need of some traders for cash to bolster up weakened accounts on the spock market.

**Convertible liens in most instances drifted lower. Andes Copper 7s fell back a point and Julius Kayser 5½s were offered in large amounts. Simms Petroleum 6s lost 1½ on a handful of sales. Anglo Chilean Nitrate 7s, however, gave a good demonstration of independent strength.

**Public utilities liens were first, but there were no outstanding features in that group.

French securities turned soft after an early period of firmness based on improved confidence in the country's financial position following the lifting of the ban on capital exports. Other foreign bonds followed a mixed sourse. United States Government obligations were no-especially active and prices were a shade lower.

tions were a shade lower.

Offering will be made tomorrow of $12,000,000 first mortgage 5s and $5,000,000 convertible debenture 5½s of The 185,000,000 convertible depending 5½s of the Lexington Water & Power Co. The dissues, to finance the construction of a large hydroelectric property, will be priced to yield about 5.10 and 5.60 per cent. Offering also will be made of $5,000,000 Procter & Gamble Co. 4½s, priced at 110 and interest,

By ARTHUR A. HEVWOOD.

ECH and Eastern High Schools mad ons, mostly high school students, saw Tech defeat Western 61 to 15 and East-

Tech assumed the lead at the very outset on a long shot by Dan Galotta, but Wilson evened it up for Western with a short basket. Luney and Doyle were the only two Western men successful in penetrating Tech's defense in the first quarter, while Berger, Rooney, Goldblatt and Galotta ran Tech's total to 18 points.

Holding Western to 3 points in the second quarter. Tech ran its total to 37 points before the first half ended, and opened the final half with equally as much drive. It was at the third quarter that Bob Wilson was forced from the game with four personal fouls, and Western, with the score steadily the board's decision, which was made despite widespread criticism from alumni.

61-15 Defeat Rickard Ranks Champions Best in All Weight Classes

Calls Tunney One of Best Heavyweights in Ring History.

N EW YORK, Jan. 10 (A.P.).—For the fourth successive year Tex Rickard today lined up the rank and file of puglilists for "The Ring," a boxing publication, and at the head of the parade set Gene Tunney, who just recently declared war on the promoter.

just recently declared war on the promoter.

All recognized champions lead their classes, except in the somewhat obscure junior welterweight section, where Ruby Goldstein gains top position over Mushy Callahan, hailed as champion of the 140-pound class.

In all but the heavyweight class the promoter split the divisions into two groups, only the first of which were ranked numerically. Among the ponderous battlers, Rickard set Tunney first, Jack Dempsey second and Jack Sharkey third before dividing the remainder of the heavyweights into two groups.

Rickard deplored the lack of outstanding foreign contenders in a copyrighted article accompanying the selections. He declared Gene Tunney the "big sensation of last year, as he was the shining

That Tech is going to be a dominant factor in the race for the title, was plainly evident yesterday. Opening with a dazzling attack the game had been under way but a minute or two before Western's defense was groping about as if in the dark.

Tech's great offensive power gave Western little opportunity to show the brand of ball which carried it to a victory over Business, last Saturday. Sweeping down the floor with snappy, well-directed passes, the Tech Team men got under the net with ease, to pile up point after point.

Louis Berger, left forward and ace of the Tech Team ran wild. Single-handedly he garnered 22 points and his ciever handling of the ball and his passing aided his teammate in scoring. Patrick Rooney, teammate to Berger, played a brilliant floor game, accounting for 13 points. Forney, Goldblatt and Galotta also figured prominently in the scoring.

EW YORK, Jan. 10 (A.P.).—
Rogers Hornsby, second baseman and captain of the New York Giants, has been traded to the Boston Braves in exchange for Catcher Francis Hogan and Outfielder James Welch, the New York National League Club announced tonight. No cas' was involved. The deal was for the "best interests" of the club, according to a statement issued by President Charles A. Stoneham and Manager John J. McGraw. Hornsby signed a two-year contract with the Giants last rear at a reported salary of $40,000 a season, the highest paid any player in the National League. The statement signed by Stoneham and McGraw said:

"After due deliberation between President Stoneham and Manager McGraw, and having i. mind what we think to be the best interests of the New York Giants, a trade was consummated today which involved Rogers Hornsby, second baseman, where the Giants receive Catcher Francic Hogan and Outfielder James Welch of the Boston Braves. No cash was involved."

News of the trade broke like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky to newspaper men assembled in he Glants' offices tonight. Neither Stoneham nor McGraw were present and notice of the deal was handed to the reporters in the brief announcement. OFFICIAL AMERICAN LEAGUE PITCHING AVERAGES, 1927 Earlier in the day, the Giants' noti-ded sports writers that an important announcement would be disclosed to-night and baseball-circles had expected it might indicate the appointment of Hornsby as manager of the Giants, for reports to that effect were current throughout the closing days of the 1927 campaign.

Asked if the club or its officials contemplated a further announcement clearing up definitely the facts surrounding the most surprising player deal since the closing of the 1927 season, Tierney said that nothing more would be forthcoming.

"The deal is completed. There will be no further announcement."

The deal was particularly surprising in view of Hornsby's brilliant work afield and at bat during the Giants' last drive. In the absence of McGraw, due to illness, Hornsby was acting manager of the team, and during the closing days of the race brought the New York, club into a contending position for the pennant. For 1927, the "Rajah" led the club in runs batted in, with 125 and had a batting average of 361.

Before coming to the Giants, Hornsby was defendant in a suit for $90,000 brought by Frank Moore, Cincinnett betting commissioner, for alleged wagers Hornsby placed on horse races. By a jury decision last month Hornsby was freed of those claims.

After leaving the Cardinals, Hornsby was obliged to sell his holdings in that club in order to play with the Giants. After lengthy conferences, he sold his stock to Sam Breadon, owner of the St. Louis team, for $116,000. Two years previous to that sale, Hornsby had purchased the stock for only $52,515.

"I Can Not Believe It," Hornsby, in St. Louis, Says

St. Louis, Jan. 10 (A.P.).—Rogers Hornsby, when informed here tonight of the sensational trade which transfers him from the New York Giants to the Boston Braves, said, "I can not believe it." Talking over the telephone from his hotel here, Hornsby seemed greatly surprised and said he could see no reason why a deal should be made severing him from the Giants. Asked if he were geing to the Braves to ultimately manage the team, Hornsby said he did not cure to comment on that prospect because he had not been notified officially of the deal. The former manager of the Cardinals said he

by said he did not care to comment on that prospect because he had not been notified officially of the deal. The former manager of the Cardinals said he believed there was nothing to the deal, offering a sugression that he did not think the Boston Club would care to assume his large contract.

Later Hornsby announced the receipt of a telegram from Judge Emil E. Fuchs, president of the Braves, informing him of the deal. Obviously at a loss or words, the ballplayer asked reporters if there was anything to the report that the Braves are owned by the Glants.

"Maybe they're trying to build up a Boston club," he said. "I've heard the Glants own the Braves. Do you know whether that's true? I certainly don't know what's wrong if there is anything wrong.

"It doesn't make any difference to know what's wrong if there is anything wrong.

"It doesn't make any difference to me whether I'm with the Braves or any other club, but I do not know what the New York officials mean by saying I was traded for the best interests of the club, unless they simply mean to infer they received players who will give the team more strength than I have given it.

"I do not however, believe that Mc-Graw said I was traded for the best interests of the club. That no doubt came from the other fellow (meaning Stoneham)."

GALAHAD'S GAME FINISH WINS AT NEW ORLEANS

Blocking to Win Race

Doc, Early Leader, Is Second; Serejavo Takes Third.

Linmar Beats Maiden Two-Year Olds in Opening Race.

Ale Grounds, New Orleans, Jan. 10 (A.P.).—In a driving finish, Mrs. O. Cheney's Galahad proved himself a game horse when he won the Comrade Handlcap, a mile dash for 3-year-olds. He was repeatedly blocked around the turn, but once clear he rushed to the front and ran the gamest race shown during the winter. Doc, reigning favorite, was second, and Serejavo third. The time was 1:45 1-5.

Doc, with his bright burst of early speed, rushed into the lead, but at the half-mile pole Arnold, who had the mount, sent Galahad up on the inside. He was blocked, but lost very little ground. Arnold kept him on the inside and when Doc went a bit wide on the turn, rushed him to the front and in a drive won by a neck. Doc took the place by three lengths.

Twelve maiden 3-year-olds competed in the first race, a 6-furiong sprint, which was started out of the gate. The start was good, but it was made without all the horses being in their stalls. The winner turned up in Limmar, with Misnomer second and Jim Banola third.

Fast Wind made the running to the turn, where he ran out, then Linmar took the lead and won by a length from Misnomer, who came from a long way back. Jim lasted to win by a length. Procne was Florida Gold won the third race simply because T. Murray, who had the nount, used the whip freely on his horse. Muldoon, which was ridden by the apprentice boy, Hebert, finished coond and lost because the boy had no whip, as he could not make the heavy-headed horse do his best. Nevermore was third.

Florida Gold cut out the early running, but in the stretch Muldoon canse fast, but was weakly ridden, and Florica Gold won by a head. Muldoon was second by two lengths.

W. J. Owens' Trapstock scored his third straight victory when he led home third straight victory when he led home a small but select field in the fifth race, which was a mile and a quarter gallop. He was ridden by Workman, and the boy rode a good race on him. Heed, Clique and John T. D. made the carly running, with Trapstock about fourth.

But has not been showing anything out of the ordinary. FLAHERTY is due for a good effort in this race, and you to five hearing tout of the ordinary. FLAHERTY is due for a good effort in this race, and pool of the ordinary. FLAHERTY is due for a good effort in this race, and send just of the ordinary. FLAHERTY is due for agood effort in the sixth, but there is a chance to find him out of the picture. FINLAND, a greatly improved racer, has a grand chance to capture the large end of the way to go home in the last heat, but will have opposition from NORTH BREEZE and HUON PINE.

Over at Oriental Park, the chief of staff sends along DRY NATION marked XXX special. He also fancies GEORGE MHIAS.

ALEXANDER PANTAGES is the sweet morsel sent to me via the grape vine route from Tia Juana. Is in the fifth race, which was a mile and a quarter or the route from Tia Juana. Is in the fifth race, which was a mile and a quarter or the picture. FINLAND, a greatly improved racer, has a

Around the upper turn Work-man called on Trapstock, and the gelding responded gamely, taking the lead and winning easily by two lengths. Clique took the place by a length. John T. D. was third.

In a nip-and-tuck finish Halu, a well-known mudder, won the sixth event by a nose from Hoptown Belle, with Angle Plane third. It was a hard drive all through the stretch.

The last race, the start of which was bad, was won by Lexington Maid by three lengths. Special was second, two lengths over Scotland Forever, who finished third.

ELOISE, which will strut her onions in the third heat, is another real "good thing." Is properly placed and is due to step on the gas and roll home. Looks as though anything can be second and third. In the second race, TALLADEGA is entitled to one more trial. Probably carried too much "wise money" the last time and stepped on his pedigree at the sixteenth.

For the Old Town Handicap I'm stringing along with the Massey entry. FLORIAN and TANNIC have a good chance to upset the dope. BALBOA is a superior mudder and BOB ROGERS has lots of am.

23-21, FROM G. W. Seek Fifth Straight Having defeated the Senators, Tremonts, Pullman Preps and Boys Club Alumni Tossers, the strong St. Peter Five hopes to extend its winning streak to five straight games when the De Luxe Quintet is met tomorrow night in the Eastern High School gymnasium at 9 o'clock. Practice in preparation for the fray.

Harold Scruggs, formerly of Eastern High School, scored only one basket during the battle, but his lone 2-pointer was the margin of victory. Breaking away fast from mideourt, Scruggs crashed through the stalwart George Washington defensive to cage the ball, despite a couple of pushes and shoves by the desperate Colonial guards.

Host to K. C. Team The Knights of Columbus Quintet will make its first bid for the District unlimited title on Sunday afternoon against the champion Anacostia Eagles in the Congress Heights Auditorium. This will be the opener of a two-game or three-game series, the second or which will be placed easier.

The desperate Colonial guards.

As an exhibition of basketball last night's affair was only an ordinary tussle, with both teams displaying no exceptional passing or any wonderfully accurate shooting, but the indomitable spirit of the rival teams, which attended the fray, soon had the spectators in its grip, and for the most part overshadowed in its highly pitched excitement the many flaws and medicore play of the quintets.

During the first half the game was a point-for-point battle, with American University always holding an upper hand. With the score tied at 6 to 6, Kessler began to make his presence felt. Teaming with Birthright on the pivot play, the diminuity guard tossed in a pair of nice shots from beyond the 20-foot zone to give the visitors an 11-8 advantage at half time.

With the resumption of play

Woltz A. C. won another game last night, defeating the F. H. Smith Co-Five, 34 to 22. The game was played in the Central High School gymnasium Melton and Barnard starred for the winners, while Comer played to the Smith Team.

Flashing a truly spectacular attack, the spirited George Washington Five soon brought the battle to a climax. A successful foul to.s by Lopeman was the signal for a brilliant Colonial rally, which saw the Americans dazed with its speed and decisively outclassed. Baskets it rapid succession by Goodson, Perry, Lopeman and Carey sent the Colonials soaring to a 21-15 lead, with bright hopes of victory.

The play of Carey and Perry, of George Washington, was especially outstanding even in defeat, while Shloss, Capt. Birthright and Kessler were the big factors in American U.'s triumph.

Dyer and Cosgrove to Be Matched Against Long and Foley.

Streak of Cardinals Is Jeopardized by Visiting Team.

THE 1928 Catholic University Quintet, ranked among its greatest basketball teams which have repeated the Cardinals during the past cade, will have its mettle tested by flashy Gallaudet College Five in a met 8:30 o'clock tonight in the cookland gymnasium.

Brookland symnasium.

With its whirlwind short-passing attack centered around its two sensational forwards, Dyer and Cosgrove, Kendall Greeners loom as a much-feared menace to Catholic University's winning streak of five decisive victories.

Callaudet is counting upon its aces, Dyer and Cosgrove, to offset the individual efforts of Ray Foley and Johnny Long, the big scoring threats of the Cardinals, but whether the fiveman zone defense of the Kendall Greeners will prove equal to the task of stemming the home team's attack is the factor on which hinges the most hopeful chances of Coach Krug's players.

players.

However, the presence of Capt. Jim Carney, Catholic University's dependable pivot man, in the line-up is expected to give the Cardinals the edge over their more speedy opponents. While not a conspicuous factor in the scoring, Carney is an indispensable cog in the Catholic University combination.

In the preliminary attraction, starting at 7:30 oclock, the Catholic Freshman Five will play host to the Business High School Tossers. After a poor start the Cardinal Yearlings shape up as a formidable quintet and are confident of upsetting the Stenographers.

The probable Catholic U.-Gallaudet line-ups follow:

Ernie Nevers Decides To Quit Pro Gridiron

Special to the Washington Post.

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 10.—According to reports which today preceded Ernie Nevers here from San Francisco, the blonde full back giant has averred his determination to quit pro football after this season. Ernie wants to quit for two reasons. First, because he wants to be at the peak of his football form to land himself a good berth as a college grid coach, and, second, he is heeding a warning from the St. Louis Browns to the effect that he won't be a good prospect as a big league pitcher if he does any more line pounding.

Mandell and Walker

Ordered to Risk Title Chicago, Jan. 10 (A.P.),-The Illinois State Athletic Commission today recommended serving Sammy Mandell, world's lightweight champion, and Mickey Walker, middleweight title holder, with an ultimatum calling on them to meet their outstanding challengers or face suspension in the 27 States affiliated with the National Boxing Association.

The Sportswoman By DOROTHY E. GREENE

RESHMEN and Sophomores played to a 19-19 tie yesterday in the opening match of the annual George Washington University interclass basketball series.

The two teams were evenly matched and, although the Freshmen held a 2-point lead at half time, the Soph's gained a small lead at the opening of the second half, when the match became a fast and exciting affair.

Jean McGregor scored 16 points and Althea Lawton 3 points for the Freshman I Team and Naomi Crumley caged 11 and Ella Lee Sowers accounted for 8 Sophomore points.

Class team officers elected yesterday to lead the squads in the series are: Freshmen, Jean McGregor, captain; Evelyn Folsom, manager; Sophomores, Naomi Crumley, captain; Jennie Turnbull, manager; Juniors, Myttle Crouch, captain; Betty Zimmerman, manager; Seniors, Mary Ewin, captain.

Sephomores.

EAGLES DEFEND TITLE.

The Washington Athletic Club and Bagles will open the senior division of the Washington Recreation League this evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Business High School gymnasium, Rhode Island avenue and Ninth streets northwest. The Eagles are defending the title won last season and the W. A. C., although figuring in its first Recreation League schedule, has played near the top in the local field for five years. "In the direction of any of my big pictures, and especially during the filming of the Covered Wagon, the constant use of my voice demands that I keep it in first-class condition. As a cigarette smoker it was necessary that I find a cigarette which I could smoke without any chance of throat irritation or cough. After trying them all, I decided on Luckies. They Owne Owne are mild and mellow—which both protects the throat and gives real smoke enjoyment."

The Cream of the Tobacco Crop

"The growth of LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes is a wonderful thing but there is a reason, Iknow, because I buy the Tobacco for LUCKY STRIKE. I buy 'The Cream of the Crop,' that mellow, sweet smoking Tobacco that the Farmer justly describes as I have described it above. The quality of LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes is telling. It is natural that the brand should show the tremendous growth that it is showing today."

Home-made, but Ends Coughs In a Hurry

If you have a severe cough or chest cold, with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or it your child wakes up at night with a hoarse cough, and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified honey, if desired. This makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes acod, and in spite of its low cost, can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phiegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes of the throat and bronchial tubes with an ease and promptness that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable gualacol, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless limitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of l'inex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co. Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Raliway today declared the usual extra dividend of 75 cents a share, in addition to the regular quarterly disbursement of $1.75, on the common stock. Both are payable March 1 to holders of record January 27.

An initial quarterly dividend of 80 cents a share was declared today by Galesburg Coulter Disc Co., payable February 1 to stock of record January 20.

Directors of the New York, New Harven & Hartford Raliroad took no action at their meeting today on the resumption of dividends on the common stock. Only routine business was transacted. E. O. Goss, president of the Scoville Manufacturing Co., Waterbury, Conn., was elected a director to succeed Harry Whittemore, who died. Chicago, Jan. 10 (A.P.).—Directors of the Middie West Utilities Co. today decided to make a dividend rate of 7 per cent a year on the common stock, starting with the dividend payable May 15. This, officials said, means that the 7 per cent preferred stock will go on an 8 per cent basis. Two Washington bankers are contributors to the current number of the Bankers Magazine. Frederick P. H. Siddons, secretary of the American Security & Trust Co., writes on "How Personal Solicitation May Best Be Organized," and pointing out that account solicitation has become a profession goes into the detail of organization, where to begin and what to expect. Eliot H. Thomson, publicity manager of the Washington Loan & Trust Co., gives an interesting story of the experience of the banks of Washington with cooperative advertising.

National City Shows Increase. Aggregate resources of the National City Bank, of New York, recording an increase during the year of $288,412,960, reached a total on December 31, 1927 of $1,682,802,851 a figure never previously approached in the annals of American banking. Gross receipts, Charles E. Mitchell, president of the bank, told the stockholders at their annual meeting vesteriay amounted on nual meeting yesterday amounted on that date to $1,275,041,964, an increase

C. C. GLOVER SEES CITY OF 1,000,000 FIFTEEN YEARS

Makes Prediction at Celebration of Golden Wedding Anniversary.

"FATHER OF PARKS" STILL LOOKS AHEAD

Compares Present and Future With Capital of 50,000 People, as He Saw It.

Looking backward over half a century of happy years, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Carroll Glover, surrounded by their children and grandchildren, yesterday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, the chief event of which was a reception to their friends at their nome at 1703 K street northwest.

The reception, given yesterday from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock, was one of the most brilliant social functions of the season. Among the many prominent persons present were friends of the couple who had known them during their entire married life. About 250

He said assume again a rair and equitable por-tion of the extress expenses. He said that he expected the 60-40 ratio, or perhaps the 50-50 ratio would be re-established. He believed the present form of government the best.

"Father of Parks."

Mr. Glover, who is known as "the father of the park system" of Washington, has for 60 years been active in promoting the growth and improvement of the city. He is credited with influencing the passage of more legislation beneficial to the city than perhaps any other man of his time. His outstanding work has been in the development of Potomac, Rock Creek, Anacostia and other parks.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Glover looked backward on mutual lives of useful. ness, their thoughts were chiefly centered on the eventful hour of January 10, 1878, when they were married in Epiphany Church here.

Things have changed greatly in Washington since that day, and Mr. Glover, and Mrs. Glover too, have had no little share in effecting the changes that have been most beneficial, and have given the city greatest distinction. Although he had reached a time in life when it is proper to look backward.

Mr. Glover still retains his habit of looking forward.

He paused yesterday to envision what the future Washington will be The city, he believes, will have a population of 1,000,000 in 15 years, while a population of 1,500,000, he said, is insight.

He recalled that he had seen Washington grow from a small town of 50,000, filled with "ramshackle residences" and "shacks for public buildings," to the great Capital of the present.

And on that background he visioned a future Capital that would reach far out into neighboring Maryland and Virginis.

He believed, however, that if the city is to grow as it should Congress must.

Dissatisfied with the evidence sub mitted by both the prosecution and the defense in the Le Paradis Night Club case, heard in Police Court yesterday, Judge John P. McMahon ordered the case continued until Saturday, when more evidence will be introduced. Robert C. Kehl, manager of the night club is being tried for an alleged violation of the Sunday closing law on New Year's Day.

of the Sunday closing law on New Year's Day.

The case was continued when Judge McMahon announced he was not satisfied that the Le Paradis Night Club is a "place of public amusement" within the meaning of the police regulation which requires such places to remain closed on Sundays except between the hours of 2 and 11 o'clock.

After witnesses had testified that eating and dancing were the chief activities at the cafe New Year's Day, Judge McMahon sald: "I am not satisfied whether two persons dancing furnish public amusement for persons sitting around a cafe and eating, at least ting around a cafe and eating, at least within the meaning of the law." He then ordered both sides to present more stimony on this point. Harry N. Douthitt, field secretary for Harry N. Douthitt, field secretary for the Citizens Service Association for Law and Order, testified he took Mrs. Juanita Whitney, a policewoman, to the cafe at 12:45 o'clock New Year's morning. Douthitt declared he was charged $17.50 for a chicken salad, club sandwich and two bottles of ginger ale. Witnesses for the club told the court, however, that Douthitt and his guest could have had a regular dinner for the asking and for the same price.

Douthitt testified that a girl in scant clothing gave an exhibition dance. When asked what he meant by scant, Douthit sald the dancer was attired in black tights, a white blouse and shoes.

This is the first of the 24 cases of alleged violation of the Sunday closing law by local night clubs, hotels and dancing halls to be tried.

Profits of wholesale bakers were comparatively high in the six years from 1920 through 1925, the report stated. The rate of return on the total baking investment, as revised by the commission, was 14.90 per cent, and the investment, as revised by the commission to eliminate intangibles and appreciation, averaged more than 25 per cent.

This period, however, was marked by a pronounced decline in the relative productivity of the baking investment, the volume of bread production in the United States.

In Bladensburg Road POUND BREAD LOAF COSTS 8.55 CENTS. COMMISSION FINDS

Federal Trade Board Survey Shows That 5.11 Cents Goes to Baker.

SHARE FOR FARMER PLACED AT 1.15 CENTS

General Decline in Prices Is Noted From High Levels Reached in 1920.

(Associated Press.)
A pound loaf of bread cost the American family 8.55 cents over a three-year period recently studied by the Federal Trade Commission, with the farmer who raised the wheat receiving 1.15 cents and the baker 5.11 cents of the amount.

With nearly half the bread now consumed in the United States produced by commercial bakeries, and with three companies controlling about 20 per cent of that output, the commission found cor petition was keen, although price-cutting wars had resulted in price fixoutting wars had resulted in price fixing agreements in some cities.

The report of the commission, prepared for the Senate and made public today, said it had been observed that where restraining influences on competition were found indications frequently pointed to activities of national, district or local associations or clubs of bakers or millers. These associations, it was added, are prominent in price-fixing activities. tivities.
Wholesale Prices Lower.

Wholesale Prices Lower.

Wholesale bread prices have shown a pronounced decline from the high levels of 1920, with prices in a general way following the trend of flour prices during that period, the commission noted.

It further observed "abundant potential competition" in the flour milling industry, but there were frequent efforts to limit production among millers by agreements and understandings to sell at a profit," as well as by exchange of information on selling prices and by other means.

Fifty-seven companies, operating 278 bakeries, manufactured 30 per cent of the amount of commercial bread produced in the United States in 1925, the commission reported.
